INTRODUCING! Three programs for the VIC-20

MARTIAN RAIDER by Clifford Ramshaw. Streaking through deep space, you guide your intergalactic battle ships in an attack on Mars. Skimming perilously close to the surface of the planet you devastate Martian cities, and destroy ammunition dumps, while warding off ground to air missiles, U.F.O.s, and meteorites. Keyboard or Joystick controlled, the game runs on the unexpanded VIC-20.

SHARK TRAP by Clifford Ramshaw. Dastardly pirates have thrown you overboard into dark, shark infested waters. Your only protection is an atomic net which you trail behind you, trying to snare the sharks, while keeping an eye out for the ever increasing deadly octopi. Keyboard or joystick controlled, the game runs on the unexpanded VIC-20.

MULTISOUND SYNTHESIZER by Darren Hall. Compose your own kind of music! Create your own special song! So flexible it can be played in more ways than we can tell you here to make merry melodies and special effects. Fascinating, and lots of fun! Keyboard controlled, the program runs on the unexpanded VIC-20.

ANNOUNCING! Now available for the IBM!

APPLE PANIC by Olaf Lubeck. The apples will get you if you don't watch out! Forced to flee from pursuing apples in a multi-level mansion, you set traps for your pursuers along the way. This is a fast arcade style game with great graphics and animation. Keyboard controlled, on 64K disk for the IBM P.C. with graphics adapter card.
